1. The M.S. MARS, an ex-German ship which was sunk during the war, has been raised from the bottom of the Upper Notec Canal. The MARS, a ship of 4,500 BRT, was last used by the Germans as naval quarters; not having been badly damaged, the MARS will be towed to Gdansk, where repair work will commence shortly, but prior to her removal to Gdansk she will be secured against sinking.
2. The EMILA ZAUBER, a former German ship, will probably be ready on 22 July 1952 to be put into service in the Polish Merchant Marine. This ship was sunk during the war near the Cape of Hel peninsula.
